FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DAUGHERTY BUSINESS SOLUTIONS NAMES NEW ST. LOUIS BRANCH MANAGER

(SAINT LOUIS, MISSOURI) April 28, 2008 – Daugherty Business Solutions, a premier technology consulting firm headquartered in St. Louis, has named Carol Morgan as St. Louis Branch Unit Manager. For the past two years, Morgan has served as a consultant and a Delivery Manager at Daugherty. In her new role, she will lead the St. Louis branch, concentrating on continued market growth in the region. Morgan replaces John Wirth, who has been promoted to Corporate Sales Manager for the organization.

Prior to joining Daugherty, Morgan was a member of the senior leadership team at Tyco-Mallinckrodt, where she held director level roles for Sales Process Improvement, Operational Excellence and Sales and Operation Planning. Prior to her work at Tyco-Mallinckrodt, Morgan was at Edward Jones where she pioneered the initiative to build an Enterprise Data Warehouse (EDW) and was then responsible for the IS strategy, development and support teams for the EDW and Business Intelligence functions.

In other personnel changes, Steven Lemmon was promoted to St. Louis Regional Sales Manager. Lemmon has thirty years of experience in the information technology field ranging from Fortune 50 companies to technology start-ups. “Since joining Daugherty in 2006, Steve has done a tremendous job of providing leadership that has led to improved relationships with some of our larger customers and in establishing collaborative relationships with several new customers.” explained Corporate Sales Manager, John Wirth. Prior to Daugherty, Lemmon served as a Major Account Manager at Microsoft.
